Global Watch Weekly Report

Welcome to the Global Watch Weekly Report

For the last 4 years Reece Woodstock has been project managing the weekly issues of the Global Watch Weekly as well as the development of many of our special insider reports. He was also one of the close circle of researchers who worked closely with Mel Sanger in helping to set up Rema Marketing.

Unfortunately Reece will no longer be with us as he is moving thousands of miles to be closer to his parents who in their later years need all the support he can provide as their only child. His commitment and love to his family is a testament to all of us and we wanted to honor his leaving by bringing back into remembrance a really interesting interview that Reece gave several years ago.

If you know anything about Reece you will know that he is extremely shy and not one to giving many public speeches or interviews so we are glad we did have this available for you to revisit. Please note this interview was several years ago so you will probably recognize comments made about events related back to 2009/2010.

Reece, we appreciate everything you have done and all your hard work especially during some very tough and challenging times over the last 16 months.

God bless you from all of us at Rema Marketing and all our members who we know are totally thankful for how far you have brought us.

Rema Marketing Team

A FAREWELL TO REECE

Interviewer: You mentioned about weaknesses in bible prophecy teachings. Could you elaborate?

Reece: I could take a whole day on this but in a nutshell much of mainstream bible prophecy is what we call surface level and "tunnel vision" bible prophecy.

Interviewer: Surface level?

Reece: Surface level in that much of mainstream bible eschatology is very general and isn't based on the historical foundation of the new world order. As a result it causes some really outlandish opinions to be conveyed about the end times and specific events, because without that firm understanding of the origin and history of the new world order there is nothing to restrain one from really deviating into all kinds of theories whilst still using the bible as justification.

We saw this happen during the early nineties where a whole barrage of books were published about Saddam Hussein being the possible Antichrist and then in 1999 with again a barrage of books written by bible prophecy experts about the significance of 2000 in the prophetic calendar.

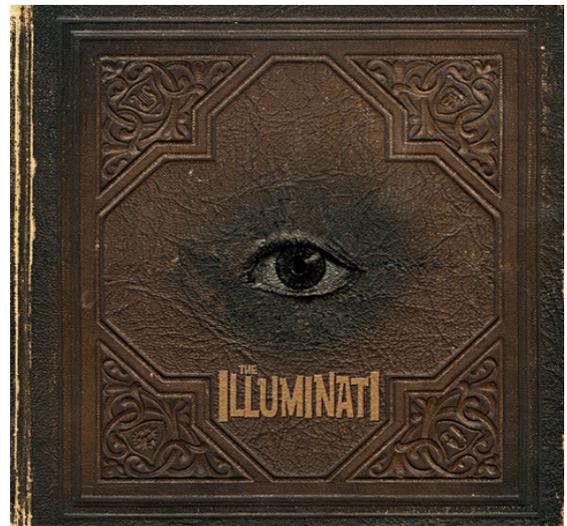

Today we see the same thing for instance with a sudden rise in the number of bible prophecy teachers now progressing that the Antichrist will be a Muslim and that the final world power as prophesied by Daniel and John will be Islam or some teaching that Obama is the Antichrist.

Interviewer: Reece explain what you mean by "historical foundation of the new world order" as that's a critical point to understand. I hear the term "new world order" constantly referred to but sometimes I wonder whether its become over used and simply seen as a term that references anti establishment or anti government.

Reece: From our research, whilst there has been a significant amount of material published regarding the new world order we believe that the foundation for understanding the New World Order and end times rests on six pieces of work which are the undisputed pillars or structures to the new world order concept and its implementation.

The first was a report published in 1489 called the Constantinople Letter which was a plan created by the Great Sanhedrin in Constantinople to conquer the leadership of the world as a means for the Jews to survive the growing tide of anti Semitism across Europe. This letter became the premise of the illuminati which was originally known as the Brotherhood of the illuminati and then became known as the Order of the Perfectibilists, when the letter of Constantinople was provided to a professor and major member of the freemason Grand lodge called Adam Weishaupt who had a strong Jesuit influence. Through Weishaupt the Perfectibilists then became known as the Order of the illuminati.

Interviewer: OK, so the first pillar you recognise as being the Constantinople Letter?

Reece: Yes. The second pillar is a publication published in 1871 called Morals and Dogma. This was the work of Albert Pike who was a grandmaster of the Scottish rite of Freemasonry and was chosen to coordinate illuminati activities in the United States.

The third pillar we see is a publication called The Secret Doctrine written by Helen Blavatsky. She was a major contributor to the advancement of the occult sciences and concepts and beliefs which became the basis of Hitler's world domination plan.

The fourth pillar was a publication called Externalisation of the Hierarchy written by Alice Bailey, a prominent exponent of the teaching of Theosophy.

A FAREWELL TO REECE

The fifth pillar is a publication called The Keys of Enoch, written in 1973 by Dr JJ Hurtaak which is a parapsychical 'codebook' of a higher consciousness experience which explains how the human race is connected with a more advanced higher evolutionary structure of universal intelligence.

The sixth pillar is the Club of Rome report Limits to Growth that was published in 1973 and the final pillar is Alexander Hislops Two Babylon's which is an absolute masterpiece in understanding the transition of Babylon religion throughout the centuries.

John I am telling you if you have these seven publications in your possession you have the full 100% complete blueprint of the origin of the new world order, its progress, evolution and final implementation.

Interviewer: Those are some pretty intensive pieces of work as I have reviewed some, the most recent being the Externalisation of the Hierarchy. So your saying that mainstream bible prophecy teachers are not aware of these works?

Reece: John, there are some bible prophecy teachers that haven't read any of these publications. Some have and others are aware of some of these publications. But my point is that when you examine the content of these publications it creates a significant frame of reference for understanding the end times.

For instance one could never examine all these works and then claim that Islam is going to the final end time power or that it was the influence of Christianity that was behind the rebirth of Israel as nation or that the rebuilding of the Jewish third temple in Jerusalem is a good thing. I could go on and on but time wouldn't permit.

The bottom line is if you are teaching end time prophecy in the public domain your frame of reference shouldn't be based on the teachings of other bible prophecy teachers and possibly regurgitating possible end time views which could be filled with significant errors. Instead you need to go to the source and review that to create a frame of reference.

Interviewer: I think your strong on this because as an avid researcher you are trained in the art of primary source identification but I can clearly see your logic here and that's great guidance for those out there wanting to understand the end time without any pre-bias.

Tell me, since the launch of the Antichrist Identity Series how has the publication evolved. I mean are you constantly updating it as new information becomes available or are you creating additional reports as part of an evolving series. What's the strategy?

Reece: As a researcher quality of data is key and so as new data becomes available you have to be flexible to make revisions or adjustments to the original hypotheses. This happened where we had to make an update to part 2 in the Antichrist Identity Series: Apostles of the New World Order.

Previously there was a section which addressed some of the untruths being publicized about Barack Obama and we had previously stated that the accusation regarding his birth certificate were simply speculations without substance. This was because much of the material being used to justify these claims at that time were poor works of documentation.

However in the last nine months a significant amount of data is now in the public domain regarding Obama and his birth certificate and there is tremendous evidence to suggest that our original view needs to be revised.

Interviewer: How often will you be updating the reports and is this revision already available?

Reece: These revisions are all even more conclusive proof of the emergence of the new world order and world government. The pace of its evolution is frightening and that why its important that we continue to keep our members aware of new updates or report releases because as we accelerate towards a world government, data that was relevant 6 months ago becomes obsolete as new data becomes available.

Interviewer: Reece do you and your team believe you know who the Antichrist will be. We see and hear so much about Prince Charles, Prince El Hassan, Juan King Carlos and the list goes on and on. Why are these names always on the conveyor belt?

Reece: We get asked this question thousands of times and the answer is always a resounding No. Our reasoning for this is because the bible makes it very clear that the revealing of the Antichrist takes place when the rebuilt Jewish temple is seized and taken over by the Masonic global elite.

II Thessalonians makes it clear that the destiny of the Antichrist is linked to the removal of believers from this earth.

Once removed, his destiny moves into acceleration and then he is fully revealed during an event known as the abomination of desolation.

Some believe he is revealed with the signing of a peace covenant with Israel but he doesn't sign anything. The Hebrew understanding of Daniel 9:27 makes it clear that he is an enforcer of a covenant that is linked to the nation of Israel and the Temple Mount.

Interviewer: So you don't believe Obama is the Antichrist then? (smile)

Reece: No chance whatsoever.

Interviewer: One of the major observations I have personally made with your new members website is the way that you provide access to information where certain views may not necessarily be in sync with your own. Is that purposely done?

Reece: We have recognized that there is a wide variation of views within our membership base regarding the end times and that it is important to stimulate debate and discussion on many of the key areas. For instance there are some who believe strongly that the Antichrist will arise from the Vatican, some believe he will be an Assyrian.

Some believe that the last days Babylon of the book of Revelation will be a literal city in Iraq, others believe it is symbolic of the United States.

Some believe that its the Vatican or Jesuits who are controlling the new world order agenda, others believe its the British Monarchy, others the Bilderbergers and so on and on. So we have a principle that is based on not throwing the baby out with the bath water.

Its important to understand that the identification and resistance to the new world order agenda is not just exclusively a Christian revelation. There are non Christian groups who also recognise the dangers of the world government who also provide significant evidence to help further clarify the jigsaw pieces in the end time puzzle.

Islam as an example is significantly hostile to the Illuminati agenda which it see's as the basis for Western Zionism and has produced some great insights into the understanding of the Illuminati agenda.

Also take David Icke as another example. He has provided some fantastic information on Mystery Babylon Religion and its infiltration of the modern world. However Icke also believes that Christianity and other religions were born out of the pagan belief structures rooted in ancient Babylon mythology and were primarily set up as a system to control the masses.

We clearly would not agree with this assertion regarding Christianity but this does not mean we would exclude his material where we believe it has great relevance in providing insight into the formation of world government.

A FAREWELL TO REECE

So unlike other end time ministry websites who seem to only want to include information from those who are for instance Christian only, Pretribulational only and Premillennial only you will find that whilst we are Christian and Premillennial we are also diverse enough to recognise quality information wherever it can be found especially in a world that is intoxicated with media misinformation.

Interviewer: I personally think its a fresh approach. Are there any specific events taking place this year which have caught your eye?

Reece: Obviously the resulting decisions being taken because of the global financial fallout are difficult to ignore but one of the issues that has really gripped me is the progression of the EU sponsored neighbourhood program where nations of North Africa and the Middle East are now invited as observers to some of the EU member state meetings.

Mainstream news hardly picks up on it but its amazing because the nations of North Africa and the Middle East were formerly regions that were under control of the Romans during the time of Christ and we now see the emergence of the revival of a confederacy which started off as a European power but one which is now extending its geographical boundaries and economic presence across the Mediterranean basin. There are others but too many to name now for sure.

Interviewer: I also wanted to ask you how much you take into account prophecies from the likes of Nostradamus, St Malachy, the visions of Fatima, the Mayan prophecies and other sources which may not be Christian. Do you see any relevance in their consideration?

Reece: I personally see relevance with St Malachy mainly because he has been deady accurate. I have seen many bible prophecy teachers quote from the prophecies of St Malachy but then at the same time distance themselves saying that we shouldn't put our trust in it yet you can see it all etched over the face that they absolutely believe in it. I think we also need to address that even though the Roman Catholic church fell into apostasy during the middle ages it doesn't necessarily mean that every single person in the Catholic Church throughout the centuries could not have been used by God to bring prophetic revelation to the church in their pursuit for truth.

Many times we tend to view the Roman Catholic Church as this structure which throughout the centuries was populated 100% with pagan worshippers. However look at the reformation. The early reformers quest and pursuit of truth did not happen after they broke away from Rome. It happened whilst they were still part of Rome. God inspired them whilst they were still part of Rome because he could sense their dissatisfaction with the teachings of Rome and their understanding that justification was by grace and not works or tradition.

I think we need to also realise that every Christian cult and non Christian religion throughout the centuries has always had a problem with some element within the Doctrine of Christ. Whether its his pre-eternal existence as God the Son, his virgin birth, his nature as the God-man, his death on the cross as the atonement for sin, his bodily resurrections, his literal physical second coming, and his coming back to rule on earth.

Whether its the Mormons, Jehovah Witnesses, Christadelphians, Scientology, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism. They all cannot fully embrace the Doctrine of Christ. Yet the ecclesiastical position of the Roman Catholic Church through its history is that is has always embraced the Doctrine of Christ in its entirety.

A FAREWELL TO REECE

I think this has always provided an avenue for God to still work with specific individuals in this Church because despite the Church being overtaken by rituals and traditions that originated with ancient Babylon, there was still some salt in its theology and whilst that salt remains it provides an opportunity for God to still move on those seeking truth.

Interviewer: So you believe St Malachy was inspired by God?

Reece: Possibly.

Interviewer: Quite a controversial view as I know critics would disagree saying how could God inspire a Church which some claim is the Mother of Harlots as described in Revelation 17 and one which practices beliefs and traditions which originate with Mystery Babylon.

Reece: Notice I didn't say inspire the the church. I said inspire specific individuals inside the church. For instance the early reformers were actually part of the Roman Catholic Church before they broke away during the great reformation. But could we say they were not inspired before the reformation despite their deep pursuit for the truth.

When it comes to St Malachy we need to realise only God himself is omniscient and to provide a level of prophecy so specific and covering hundreds of years into the future. Malachy's prophecy of the succession of Popes has been frightening in terms of its accuracy.

The other prophecies you refer to such as the Visions of Fatima or Nostradamus could not be of God which is why they have been open to so much different interpretations because like the horoscopes when predictions or prophecies are not of God they lack clarity. For instance the quatrains of Nostradamus are so vague and have been reinterpreted so many times throughout the ages that they simply have no credibility.

Interviewer: I think I will sit on the fence on that one.

Reece: Its a personal view. I know some of the team such as Mel or Kevin may have a different take.

Interviewer: One of the other things I wanted to mention was that I was at a recent Bible Prophecy Conference and what was clear to me over the years is that when we talk about Israel being Gods chosen nation and the Jews being his chosen people what does that actually mean in the twenty first century?

Reece: This is a key point and I would recommend for our members to purchase Holy War because it provides a fantastic insight into the history of the Jews in terms of what happened during the Diaspora and the differences between the Northern Kingdom of Israel after they were overcome by the Assyrians and the Southern Kingdom of Judah, Benjamin and Levi which was overcome by the Babylonians.

Without going into too much detail it would seem the Israelites from the Northern Kingdom migrated from Assyria into North Eastern Europe and through intermingling became assimilated into other races and eventually lost their unique culture, heritage and identity.

This is why some of the bloodlines of the Illuminati such as the Merovingians used their Jewish descent as a symbolic justification for their claims as being the protector of the Holy Lands because they were able to prove through their family ancestry that their forefathers could be traced back to the tribes of Israel.

So we have many Europeans that have Jewish ancestry even though they would not class themselves as Jews but then we also have the visible Jews, those in America, or in the UK or Israel or the Falasha Jews from Ethiopia. Its a complex issue.

Interviewer: That's interesting because some like John Hagee and his "Friends for Israel" ministry places a lot of emphasis on that those nations which are favourable to the nation of Israel will be blessed by God and those who are hostile will experience the curse of God.

A FAREWELL TO REECE

Reece: I personally am in agreement with some of Hagee's views in that God's covenant with Abraham was an eternal covenant with the descendants of Abraham through his son Isaac.

I don't subscribe to this replacement theology that we see today teaching that the Abrahamic covenant is no longer relevant to the nation of Israel and is now only applicable to Christians or the Western Nations who are the descendants of the Jews a view which is profound in British Israelism.

However we also need to realise that Abraham had a son called Ishmael and that there are blessings that God also promised for the descendants of Ishmael. Now I know that might be a bit of a paradox today given the present hostility of the Arab Nations towards Israel and the fact that most Arab countries are Muslim countries.

However the Bible does specify that there will be a future period of time where his blessings will be fulfilled to them. We also need to be aware that not all Jews are Godly Jews and that's where I deviate from Hagee. He seems to lump all Jews into the same category saying that they are all blessed but there are Jews who are apostate Jews.

Many of the Israeli top officials are heavily into freemasonry and follow the Talmud and Kabbalah which Jesus was referring to when he spoke out against the Pharisees who were practicing specific rituals and beliefs that Jesus said were demonic and nothing to do with the true faith.

I think its Isaiah who talks about the leaders of the nation of Israel making covenants with death and hell and thus exposing their nation to the judgement of God. Therefore the nation is still the apple of Gods eye as a nation but we need to realize this is not a mandate that every Jew is individually blessed even if they have strayed significantly away from true Judaism.

Interviewer: Well Reece I know your a busy man so in bringing this to a close what final thoughts do you want to leave with those who will be reading this interview transcript?

Reece: Firstly to say how much we appreciate our members As ever we will continue to ongoingly provide quality reports that will help to provide clarity around significant aspects of the new world order agenda so you can see how close we are to the end and the return of Christ.

Through all of this, the most important thing is will you be ready when Christ return's because understanding the new world order does not do any good unless you have taken action to commit to him. This is the true essence of bible prophecy, showing the validity of the Word of God and letting it stimulate you into examining your personal relationship with God.

Interviewer: Reece, its been a great pleasure and thanks for your time again.
